What inspires you?

My designs begin by asking my clients what their desires, needs and dreams are for their spaces. Often, I'll get inspiration from a beautiful fabric or rug I found that I just adore. It doesn't take much for me to be off and running with an exciting new room design — and the more challenging the better!

Describe your ideal client.

As in any relationship in life, if you don't have trust, you have nothing. The ideal client has done their due diligence to select a designer with enough experience and talent so that they can put their utmost trust in our design abilities. Communication is also key. I always tell clients, the more details you give me about your needs and preferences, the better.

How would you describe your design aesthetic?

My clients have told me I have a knack for knowing what they like. Often they'll say, "I never would have picked that, but I love it!" Of course, I select items and create designs that I love for clients, but first and foremost, they need to love it, since they'll be the ones living with it.
